2. In terms of the number of instruments being reported, results for this quarter are higher than the previous quarter, that is 12% of instruments being reported by the Committee.
3. One instrument engaged on the more serious reporting grounds, which is the Firefighters' Pensions (Remediable Service) (Scotland) Regulations 2023 (SSI 2023/242). There were none in the previous quarter.
4. This quarter 7 instruments were reported under reporting ground (j) (breaching of laying requirements). There were none in the previous quarter.
5. The Committee identified 14 Scottish Government instruments and 1 Document subject to parliamentary control in which minor points were raised. There were 4 in the previous quarter.
6. During this period, the Committee considered the delegated powers in 4 Bills at Stage 1 and 2 Bills after Stage 2.
7. The Committee considered 5 Legislative Consent Memorandums (LCMs) and supplementary LCMs.

Introduction

8. The purpose of this report is to provide a record of the Committee's scrutiny of instruments (e.g., Scottish statutory instruments (SSIs) and UK Statutory Instruments subject to joint procedure in the Scottish Parliament) during the first quarter of the parliamentary year 2023-24 during the period 13 May to 22 September 2023.
9. This report—
 - sets out details of instruments considered by the Committee which were drawn to the attention of the Parliament during the reporting period on one or more of the reporting grounds set out in Standing Orders;
 - touches briefly on the commitments made by the Scottish Government and the Lord President's Private Office (LPPO) in response to the Committee's comments and details any action that has been taken; and
 - outlines the Committee's activity in respect of other matters within its remit.
10. As with previous quarterly reports, this report is intended to be more statistical than analytical to help inform the Committee's annual report which goes into more detail on the work carried out by the Committee during the parliamentary year. However, the statistics can still be used to highlight emerging themes in advance of the annual report.

Overview and analysis

11. During the period 13 May to 22 September 2023, a total of 56 instruments, including 1 Document subject to parliamentary control were considered by the Committee. Five were laid by the LPPO.
12. The 50 SSIs laid by the Scottish Government are broken down as follows—
 - 11 affirmative instruments.
 - 30 negative instruments.
 - 9 laid only instruments.
13. There was 1 Document subject to parliamentary control laid by the Scottish Government.
14. The infographic below provides a breakdown of instruments laid by the Scottish Government and the LPPO, and the total drawn to the Parliament’s attention—

Total SSIs

15. The infographic shows that the Committee considered 50 SSIs and 1 Document subject to parliamentary control, laid by the Scottish Government and 5 SSIs laid by the LPPO. There were 9 instruments drawn to the Parliament's attention which equates to 16% of instruments considered.
16. There were 7 instruments reported under reporting ground (j) for breaching the 28-day rule, of which the Committee was content with all the explanations of the breaches, however, 5 of these instruments were also reported under other reporting grounds. If the 2 'content breach only' instruments are excluded from the total figure, the Committee reported 7 instruments, equating to 12% of the instruments considered.
17. In the previous quarter, the Committee considered 44 instruments laid by the Scottish Government. The Parliament's attention was drawn to 4 (9%) of these instruments, of which none were reported under reporting ground (j).

Reporting grounds

18. Under paragraph (a) of Rule 6.11 of Standing Orders, the Committee may determine that the attention of the Parliament should be drawn to an SSI on one or more of a range of technical and legal grounds. These grounds are set out in Rule 10.3.1 of the Standing Orders.
19. The Committee considers some reporting grounds to be of more significance than others. The Committee has therefore determined that it has concerns where an instrument is drawn to the attention of the Parliament on one of the following grounds:
 - ground (e) – doubt as to whether it is intra vires;
 - ground (f) – raises a devolution issue; and
 - ground (i) – drafting appears to be defective.
20. These reporting grounds are referred to as the significant reporting grounds. The Committee considers every report under one of these grounds to be a serious matter as these raise fundamental legal questions and so there is the potential for the validity of the instrument to be questioned.
21. The infographic below provides a breakdown of the number of instruments reported-on by the relevant reporting ground. A detailed list of the instruments reported on can be found at Annex A —

22. One instrument engaged one of the more serious reporting grounds.

Withdrawal of instruments

23. Two instruments were withdrawn and re-laid during this reporting period:

- Carer’s Assistance (Carer Support Payment) (Scotland) Regulations 2023 (SSI 2023/Draft); and
- Legal Aid and Advice and Assistance (Miscellaneous Amendment) (Scotland) (No. 4) Regulations (SSI 2023/Draft).

24. One instrument was withdrawn and re-laid in the previous quarter.

25. Instruments can be withdrawn and re-laid after questions about an instrument are raised by the Committee with the Scottish Government, to, for example, correct an identified drafting error.
